NVRC Call for Artist Residencies

North Vancouver Recreation and Culture (NVRC) is pleased to offer three Artist Residencies in 2022. NVRC Artist Residencies provide unique opportunities for emerging and established artists from various disciplines, cultures and life experiences to create and produce new work or develop existing projects.

We aim to see multiple disciplines represented in the Residency program including visual art, theatre art, music, eco arts, poetry, and more. The Residencies will take place in a Community Centre, Centennial Theatre, park or field house.

NVRC provides financial support, space free of charge, and will help to coordinate community engagement opportunities. Residencies can be as short as six weeks and as long as six months. Cultural Services staff will support you in creating artist-led community engaged projects relevant to your residency. These projects may include performances, public readings, artist talks or workshops.

North Vancouver is on the ancestral and unceded territories of the sə̓lilwətał and Skwxw̓7mesh speaking peoples. North Vancouver offers a tranquil environment with hiking trails through forests yet steps away you will also find a bustling urban setting. Both environments are wonderful for artists to contemplate, create, and engage.
