North Vancouver Recreation & Culture
2018 Inclusion Worker Application Form

North Vancouver Recreation and Culture in partnership with North Shore ConneXions Society and the City and Districts of North Vancouver are happy to offer the Summer Inclusion Worker program to eligible applicants. Before submitting your application please note the following:

- Applications are accepted on a first come first served basis. Camp locations and preferred dates are assigned based on 1) when applications are submitted 2) availability
- A maximum of 1 week of support will be provided. Children are encouraged to attend additional weeks of camp but will be required to attend with their own worker.
- Inclusion Workers are camp leaders who have some experience supporting children who have disabilities or other support considerations and are not hired as interventionists or specialized support caregivers, or to implement specialized home intervention programs.
- We are not able to schedule training, orientations or introductions outside of the assigned week of support. If your child requires specialized behaviour, medical, etc. support, please contact the Inclusion Programmer at 604.983.6415 to discuss eligibility prior to applying to the Inclusion Worker Program.
- Inclusion Workers are available at select NVRC locations and camps and are designated to camps that are more than four hours in length. Full day camps located at Parkgate are offered by our partner organization, Parkgate Community Services Society, so we are unable to place Inclusion Workers in these camps.
- In addition to the application form / profile form (provided to Inclusion Workers), you will be required to complete general camp forms. General camp forms are submitted directly to camps on the first day and will be sent to you from central services in a separate email.
- Regulations issued by Worksafe BC prevent leaders from providing toileting or personal care assistance (this includes changing / dressing).
- In the unlikely event that a support worker is unable to make a scheduled shift, NVRC staff will do their best to find a replacement. If a replacement is not found then a modified schedule for the day or cancellation altogether may be necessary.
- Once your application has been approved, you will be responsible to register your child for the week of camp that has been assigned as soon as possible. Failure to do so may result in the assigned week filling up. In this case, assigning an alternate week may not be possible.

I have read and agree to the above terms and information.

Selecting Good Fit Camps

Below are descriptions that highlight some of the features of camps that we hope will assist you in selecting a right fit camp for your child. These are general descriptions and camp structures can vary by location and week. Detailed camp descriptions and categories can be found in the NVRC Leisure Guide (see pages 36-37)

Full Day Camps

- Outtrip camps are full days and typically leave their facilities early in the morning and return for pick-up. These camps are good for campers who like to keep busy, enjoy public transit, and are fully independent when using the washrooms. Children who find transitions (especially quick or hurried ones) challenging and who tire easily / need breaks or quiet time may not be a good fit for these long busy days. It can be expected that swimming will be part of the schedule.

- Theme camps are full days and are more centre based with local ½ day outings to parks, etc. and usually one longer outing per week. These camps are good for campers who like routine, need breaks or quiet time, and who may require some minor support when using the washroom. It can be expected that swimming will be part of the schedule.

- Kiddie Capers & Camp Lynn Valley are designed for participants aged 5-6 years old and are 6 hours in length. They typically follow a preschool or kindergarten format and are centre based with the occasional trips to the park or local forest. These camps are good for those who like a structured and inquisitive environment.

Part Day / Specialty Camps (2-6 hours in length)

- These camps are generally skill based programs, focusing on art, sport, tech and hobbies. They are fun, instructional, and typically centre based. These camps are a good fit for participants who would benefit from a shorter day more structured day or for those who have specific interests.
  *Summer Inclusion Workers can only be assigned to camps that are 4+ hours in length.

Early Years Camps (2-6 hours in length)

- Early years camps are for children aged 3-6. They are two hours in length and are offered in a variety of themes. They are centre based with the occasional trip to the park (depending on the camp).
  *Summer Inclusion Workers can only be assigned to camps that are 4+ hours in length.
