Centennial Theatre presents The Dime Notes
Saturday, October 26, 2019 at 7:30 pm*North Vancouver, BC - The Dime Notes – small band, huge swing! London’s blues drenched, clarinet-driven, hard-swinging 1920’s vintage jazz band is coming to Centennial Theatre!

The Dime Notes dig back into the blues-drenched sounds of clarinet-driven 1920’s New Orleans jazz, unearthing a repertoire of stomps, blues and forgotten gems of the era from musicians such as Jelly Roll Morton, Johnny Dodds, and Red Nichols.

Fronted by Chris Barber’s long-time clarinetist David Horniblow, an established figure on the European jazz stage and American pianist/composer/musicologist and Morton specialist Andrew Oliver, the band is anchored by the unstoppable pulse of London’s knockout rhythm section, guitarist Dave Kelbie (Django a la Creole and Sweet Chorus) and bassist Louis Thomas, well known across the international scene for his swing, huge sound and stylistic versatility.

The Dime Notes present a fresh take on a timeless style, emphasizing the propulsive grooves and sultry melodies which made early jazz revolutionary, controversial, and wildly popular.

“...lovingly curated examples of great music from the ancestral repertoire of jazz.”
- JAZZ DA GAMA (US) “...swings from start to finish.” - JUST JAZZ (UK)
